

The journey

Music & Lyrics: Lukas Lundh

Stormy seas, roaring skies, blowing winds
A journey from afar
Deep within I can still hear your voice
I am heading home
Through the rain see the thundering clouds
I am still on course
All the things I have seen were they true?
Or was it just a dream?

Time passes slowly and I don't know where I am
How did I get here, can you tell me?
Landscapes of light
Staring in disbelief, a confusing sight
But that was then and this is now

Stormy seas, roaring skies, blowing winds...

Lost in thoughts
I have come to learn a great deal of this land
They say that I can't reveal anything
But how am I supposed to keep silent of these things when I return?
Then again would anyone believe?

Stormy seas, roaring skies, blowing winds...

Through the rain see the thundering clouds
I am still on course

Stormy seas, roaring skies, blowing winds
A journey from afar
